Hay, in Mason Valley, is selling at $3.50 per ton.

Butte, M. T., it is said, receives 50 immigrants daily.

Fifty miners are now employed in the Albion mine.

The Stermont mine, Utah, was attached for $4,000.

The railroad shops at Sacramento are being enlarged.

The farmers in Churchill county are erecting a flour mill.

A bank is to be opened next month at Bristol, White Pine county.

The Brunswick mill, on the Carson river, will start up on April one within a day or two.

It is estimated that 160,000 bushels of grain were raised on Pataha Prairie, W. T., last year.

Northern Belle Mine, Candelaria, shipped $43,108 04 on March account, up to last Saturday.

A railroad fifty miles in length is being projected between Seattle and Gray's Harbor, W. T.

A shipment of $28,000 in gold bullion is reported from the Gold Hill mine, Boise county, Idaho.

A nugget of gold weighing $130 was found by a Chinaman near Angel's, Calaveras county, one day last week.

A new and rich mining region is being discovered 70 miles west of Tucson (Arizona), in Meyer's District.

A trapper on Russian river, Cal., caught this Winter eight foxes, eight raccoons, one wildcat, one civet cat, and two fishers.

Kern county claims to have a lithographic stone quarry. Only one quarry of the kind exists, namely in Bavaria, Europe.

Cramer Bros., of Horse Lake, have purchased, as is reported, Jacob McKissick's band of cattle—about 1300 head—at $16 each.

Five men and three women were arrested on Friday night in San Francisco in an opium den, while enjoying the bamboo pipe.

There are over 100 cowboys in Cochise county, A. T. Their stronghold is the Mule Mountains, convenient to the Mexican border.

Meeting H. G. Keffer, treasurer of the Cleveland Herald, recently, a representative of the Cleveland (O.) Penny Press, inquired of that gentleman, after stating his mission, if he personally knew anything about the Great German Remedy, St. Jacobs Oil.

A smile played across Mr. Keffer's expressive face and his eyes twinkled merrily as he replied in the affirmative. I will not refuse to state my experience with it, and you may use it as you think best.

Four years ago I sprained one of my ankles, an accident which, as you are aware, entails much suffering and sometimes leaves the limb in a condition to remind one frequently of the old hurt. Unfortunately this result ensued.

When the weather became damp or my system absorbed the slightest cold my ankles pained me. This went on at intervals for over three years, and I could not obtain relief. Last winter I applied the St. Jacobs Oil and it completely cured me. I have not since felt a return of the pain.

HUB PUNCH

TO TOP OFF A DINNER,
May be Drank Clear, as a Cordial

For a dinner thoroughly appointed, the good old way was to wash down the last triumphs of the feast with copious libations of old Port and Golden Sherry; but "HUB PUNCH" has added a new sensation to the epicure. Its delicacy, aroma, flavor, and delicious, but gentle effects, proclaim it the perfect fit for the gods banqueting on Olympus.

Mix HUB PUNCH with Ice Water, Cold Tea, Lemonade, or Soda. It is immediately pronounced unvarnished.

"A tip is like nectar," says Boston Courier.

"Delicious beyond description," says Boston Transcript.

"Added to the good things of the table it encourages good nature," says Springfield Republican.

"Invaluable for a little treat when a friend drops in," says New York Evening Post.

"Many people lack the secret to brew Punch. Hub Punch is indispensable wherever known," says Spirit of the Times, N. Y.

"The popularity of Hub Punch is testimony to your success in using the best and purest components," says The Park & Tilford, New York.

"Our sales of Hub Punch have surpassed all within three months a larger quantity than we anticipated selling in twelve months," says C. H. Graves & Sons, Boston, Mass.

Trade supplied at Manufacturers' prices by RICHARDS & HARRISON, Agents for Pacific Coast, San Francisco, Cal.

JOURNALISTIC INTELLECTUALITY

It is an excellent sign, both for a paper and its readers, when it is in advance of the times. Too often the prejudices of the great mass of the citizens of any country color their thoughts to such an extent that they are not in condition to weigh the evidence and decide calmly. They have not the time, and many have not the facilities for close investigation, and they form hasty conclusions. In this way, fanaticisms and empiricisms often assume enormous proportions, and it is here that the conscientious and intelligent newspaper assumes its true importance. It is supposed always to have means of investigation, and surely it has every motive to use them: When it has the courage of its convictions it is certain to be vindicated in time, and a few such trials give it great influence. On the other hand too many papers yield to the temptation to veer with every breeze, and instead of being guided by the rigid line of right, are ready to flounder whenever passing prejudice places them in the minority. There is still another class, whose only conception of journalistic duty is to pick flaws in contemporaries. Of these the Record recently gave the following accurate description: "Everybody has at some time observed the progress of a controversy between two party 'organs.' In these cases there is no thought of seeking the truth, and no intention of admitting it if found, unless it can be made use of. Each of the disputants maneuvers for the weather-gage like an old-fashioned fighting frigate. Neither attempts to answer his adversary's arguments, but each endeavors to find a weak spot in the other's defenses. And in order to obtain the appearance of victory the combatants will resort to the most flagitious subterfuges, such as garbling one another's statements, printing one sentence and omitting another, mutilating language so as to alter the meaning, ignoring part of a statement, and replying to another part, and so on. Now this is not respectable intellectual conduct, but a sort of piracy which only irresponsible writers would engage in." As we develop, this class of warfare will be banished by public opinion from the newspapers, and the lecture field, and logic and argument take its place.

EDITORIAL NOTES

For the eight months of the current fiscal year the reduction of the interest bearing debt has been over $105,000,000 and the reduction of the total debt, exclusive of cash in the Treasury, has been $94,000,000. The Secretary of the Treasury believes that the present fiscal year will be the most notable in the history of the Government in the matter of the reduction of debt.

The Journal says, "The general road-fund may need an increased rate, but many tax-payers believe that the schools can be run with less than 40 cents." Let us by all means keep up our school fund. It was short last year, and if it is reduced the schools will be closed half the year.

It is estimated that there are 10,000,000 men under arms in Europe at the present time, and that the annual cost, direct or indirect, of these enormous forces is not less than $2,840,000,000.

Telegraphic Brevities

TO-DAY'S NEWS

Press Dispatches to EVENING GAZETTE.

EASTERN.

Beecher on the Chinese.

NEW YORK, March 27.
Beecher touched upon two important public matters in his sermon yesterday morning. The action of Congress in regard to the Chinese, and legislative tinkering of the city charter. On the former, Beecher said that one of the special difficulties of the Government was caused by the fact that this country was the gulf into which poured a stream of immigration. That stream carried down as much mud as does the Nile into its delta, and mud was miasmatic. Mud made the best soil, but killed all it overflowed. Still, immigration was needed, and he favored it. Great trouble, he said, arose over the Irish vote. The Irish is a wonderful race—merciful and full of men of genius; full of the most admirable creatures who ever dominated the earth. The Irish were full of driving force but had no constructive power. Alone they could never build a nation, but cross-bred they formed an admirable element of the nation's power. But they did make mischief in city governments, said Beecher. Thank God Ireland has not many more to send over, as she is pretty nearly gone up. The next element is German—more numerous, far more subordinate to the law, and naturally peaceful citizens. After the hodge-podge of other nations, comes the last, but best of all, the Chinaman. It has been said that the German could live on what the Yankee threw away, the Jew on what the Germans throw away, and the Chinaman on what the Jews throw away. They are types of patient industry and persistence in living, and can do more and live on less than anyone else. Our fool Congress goes to work to shut them out. [Applause.] All the important races in our country have a spring-up which carries them to seek the higher forms of living. The want of the country is a class of men to do the common and vulgar work. We are hungry for them. The work is left for the broken down and under class, and here we have a class of men coming to us ready and willing to do it, and we shut the golden gate of hope and promise in their faces. God writes down "ashes" against all the men who voted for this piece of legislation, [Applause.] and "that is my opinion."

Thinks He Will Sign.

WASHINGTON, March 27.

Forney's Sunday Chronicle says: The action of the President on the Chinese bill is looked forward to with considerable interest. The statement that the subject will be considered at Tuesday's Cabinet meeting is made on good authority and is, doubtless, correct. The persons best qualified to judge in the matter give their opinion that the President will unquestionably sign the bill as it is probable that it would otherwise be passed over his head.

Longfellow Laid to Rest.

BOSTON, March 27.

The funeral of Longfellow yesterday was attended by many persons famous in the literary world. The services, which were short, were conducted by Rev. Samuel Longfellow, brother of the deceased. The remains were laid in the family vault in Mount Auburn Cemetery. Memorial services were held in the evening at Harvard College, and a eulogy pronounced by Professor C. C. Everett.

Sympathetic Phillips.

WASHINGTON, March 27.

Representative Candler, of Massachusetts, has received a telegram from Phillips which he will ask leave to have read in the House to-morrow. It is as follows: "I am not a candidate of any party. Years ago I published in California my detestation of all restrictions on Chinese immigration as inconsistent, absurd, unjust and wicked. (Signed), WENDELL PHILLIPS."

A Cheeky Old Girl.

ST. LOUIS, March 27.

Miss Phoebe Cousins, the well-known woman suffrage advocate of this city, has applied to President Arthur to be appointed one of the five commissioners to re-organize Utah under the recent act of Congress. A numerously-signed petition for her appointment is to be sent to the President in a few days.

A California Lady Robbed.

NEW YORK, March 27.

John Peterson, of Mexico, was arrested to-day for entering the apartments of Miss Kate Wilson, of San Francisco, at a New York Hotel, and stealing jewelry etc., valued at one thousand dollars.

Not Yet Decided.

WASHINGTON, March 27.

The Supreme Court did not reach a decision in the matter of the petition of Sergeant Mason for a writ of habeas corpus and certiorari.

Bridge and Buildings Burned.

RICHMOND, March 27.

About noon yesterday the southern end of the Richmond and Pittsburg Railroad bridge was discovered on fire, and when the firemen arrived the whole structure was ablaze, and soon tumbled into the river. When the flames reached the Richmond end they seized upon the large four-story brick tobacco factory of T. M. Ruthenford & Company, which was quickly destroyed. The fire, spreading with frightful rapidity, laid in ashes the large brick tobacco factories of R. A. Patterson & Company and T. C. Williams & Company. Three tobacco stemmeries of J. A. Hutchinson, two stemmeries of R. R. and F. D. Barksdale, the stemmery of Abram & Edwards, the Vulcan Iron Works, operated by Bruce & Archer, 20 tenements, occupied by poor people, and about 300 feet of trestle connecting the Tredgar Iron Works with the Richmond and Petersburg Railroad; also 10 new freight cars of the Tredgar Company, T. P. Smith's grist mill and a number of minor buildings and a quantity of coal and lumber. At the southern, or Manchester end of the bridge the fire destroyed the Virginia Mining and Manufacturing Company's kaoline works. The total loss is estimated at $500,000, about half of which is covered by insurance. The rapid spread of the fire was owing to a heavy gale. One life was lost and several minor casualties.

Alexander H. Stevens to Retire.

NEW YORK, March 27.

The Herald's Washington correspondent says Alexander H. Stephens intends to retire from public life at the expiration of the present Congress. In conversation to-day he was asked if reports to that effect were true. "Yes, that is true," said he. "In fact, when I ran for Congress in '80, I made up my mind to retire as soon as the term expired. I am now past 76 years of age, and feel as if my declining health and physical debility render it proper that one more capable of performing the duties of the position should take my place. I wish my remaining days should be extended to the end of the present Congress may be spent in quiet and rest. The labors of a member of Congress are too heavy for me to discharge as I ought to. I have always been a Democrat, but an independent Democrat. I have never acknowledged an allegiance to any party. My allegiance has been due to principle and party organization. I have never held to be other than a subordinate to the great essential principles of the Constitutional Government as announced by Jefferson and maintained by the fathers of the Republic. In that school of politics I was born and reared, and in it I expect to die."

Guiteau Says He Will Die Without Flinching.

WASHINGTON, March 27.

Scoville starts for home to-morrow. The final meeting before Judge Cox of Corkill and Scoville to consider the bill of exceptions will be held to-day. No prospects that the bill of exceptions will be granted.

Guiteau exhibits much interest in reading accounts of executions. He read the reports of the seven hangings last Friday, and remarking that all died without showing fear, said: "I'll die without flinching, too, if I'm executed. See if I don't." He insists, however, that he will get a new trial.

Hunt to be Removed.

NEW YORK, March 27.

The Post's Washington correspondent says it is certain that Secretary Hunt is to leave the Navy Department. The general impression is that some position of trust and profit will be tendered to Hunt. The question of succession naturally excites great interest. W. E. Chandler is supposed to be the coming man. He is very strongly backed by outside influence, and would be very acceptable to Navy officials.

The Democrats Oppose Dakota's Admission.

WASHINGTON, March 27.

The Democrats have evidently determined to oppose the admission of Dakota as a State in the Union. The Democratic members of the Senate Territorial Committee asked for a recommitment of the bill so they could submit a minority report against it.

The Anti-Chinese Bill in the Hands of the President.

WASHINGTON, March 27.

The anti-Chinese bill has been sent to the President, but it is not probable that he will act on it until the regular Cabinet meeting Tuesday is over. There appears to be no reason to believe he will veto it.

A Fool in the Palpit.

NEW YORK, March 27.

Rev. Pratt of the Central Park Baptist Church, preached yesterday on Theater-going, in which he quoted as follows from another sermon: "Women are not allowed on the stage in China. God send us, then, some Chinese missionaries, that we may be converted."

Republican Economy.

WASHINGTON, March 27.

The star route service in the Pacific States and Territories cost annually, under Gen. Brady, $2,844,165. Contracts for the same service have been made for $1,125,149.

Haverly Solvent.

NEW YORK, March 27.

Several Western papers have, within the past week, published a report that Haverly, the theatrical manager, had made a general assignment of his property to C. H. McConnell, manager of the National Printing Company of Chicago. McConnell is in this city and said, last evening, "There is no truth in the rumor. Haverly's financial affairs are in a good condition, better by 83 1/2 per cent than they have been at any time in the past two years. He has six theatres in leading cities, and four traveling companies, which are doing well. He has not made an assignment to me, but has merely given us power of attorney to act for him in his absence. Reports to the contrary are due to an article published in the St. Louis Republican, which alludes to wild speculations and states that Haverly owes $80,000 to me and $35,000 to others. He does not owe me a quarter of $80,000. The substance of the Republican's article was telegraphed to several other cities, and a despatch embracing what I have mentioned appeared in the San Francisco Chronicle yesterday. I telegraphed to the manager of Haverly's theater in San Francisco, threatening to begin suit for libel unless the publication was retracted. Late last evening I received a reply stating that the Chronicle would correct its story to-day. Haverly's sole object in going to Europe is to benefit his health. He is perfectly solvent."

Frelinghuysen Opposed to the Anti-Chinese Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 27.

Members of the New Jersey delegation say that Secretary Frelinghuysen is opposed to the approval of the Chinese bill. He will advise the President to veto it.

The Chinese Minister takes the ground that some of its provisions are in direct violation of treaty stipulations. While he has been, and is now, very cautious in what he says, in allowing his views to become public, yet the opinion exists among the diplomatic corps, based upon satisfactory information that the signing of the bill now before the President will be followed by a prompt action on the part of the Chinese Government in looking to the abrogation of the entire treaty. No doubt is entertained as to the position of the Chinese Government on this question. The knowledge of this fact will have considerable influence with the President.

Feeding the Flood Sufferers.

ST. LOUIS, March 26.

The Government steamer General Barnard has returned from her trip to distribute rations for the flood sufferers in the South, and will again be loaded with cornmeal and bacon, and depart Tuesday.

Senator Teller Resigns.

WASHINGTON, March 27.

Senator Teller, from Colorado, has written out his resignation. It is generally understood that Governor Pitkin will give his seat to General Rout.

FOERIGN.

Over the Ocean.

LONDON, March 26.

The Observer thus closes a feeling tribute to Longfellow: "It is scarcely too much to say that since the death of Byron, no English poet has enjoyed so wide a popularity as Longfellow."

Robbing the Church.

BRUSSELS, March 26.

WESTERN.

A Double Disaster.

AUSTIN, Nevada, March 26.

About noon to-day two young men named Austin Parrott and Fred Shingle started out for a Sunday walk, terminating at the King Alfred mine, on Lander Hill. Whilst standing at the edge of this abandoned shaft, looking down the same, the ground commenced to give way, and, caving in, precipitated them downward into the mouth of the shaft. Shingle had forethought enough to grasp a timber on the opposite side of the shaft, thereby saving himself, but Parrott fell to the 260-foot station, striking on a pile of timbers, which stopped his possible descent to a distance of 800 feet. Young Shingle returned to town and gave the alarm. A party at once proceeded to the scene, and upon descending the shaft found Parrott lying on the timbers in an insensible condition. As the rescuers were raising Parrott from the mouth of the shaft, Charles Currelly stepped on a timber on the edge of the shaft to assist, when the ground again caved and Currelly was instantly shot down the hole from which Parrott had just been taken. The rescuers again descended and found Currelly dead, with his head badly mashed and both ankles broken. Young parrott is seriously bruised, but he has a good chance of recovery. His escape is based on the fact that a large body of earth caved under him, and descending in advance, broke his fall. Poor Currelly, who went to rescue Parrott, was less fortunate, and his body has been taken in charge by the Odd Fellows, to bury to-morrow. He was a native of Canada West, and President of the Miners' Union of this place, which office he was filling for the second consecutive term. He was popular among the masses, and universally beloved by all who knew him.

Not a Healthy Climate.

CHARLESTON, A. T., March 27.

The assassination of M. R. Peel last night adds another name to the long list of assassinations and murders which have taken place here. Mr. Peel was a son of Judge Peel, formerly of Los Angeles, and now of Tombstone. He had been here but a few months superintending the construction of a new dam across the San Pedro river for the Tombstone Mill and Mining Company. He was an educated and refined gentleman, and respected by all who knew him. The body was taken to Tombstone, at which place the burial will take place. It is impossible to assign a motive for the dastardly deed unless it be that of robbery. The assassins undoubtedly intended to kill Austin also, but by his quick movement in dropping to the floor he frustrated their plan. In their flight one of them dropped his hat and mask, which may give some clue to his identity.

Suspected of Smuggling.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26.

While the steamship City of Tokio was entering the harbor to-day, she was boarded by two United States Marshals, who arrested John Hennessy, purser of the steamer, and Henry Kennedy, the steward. These parties were arrested on suspicion of being engaged in smuggling opium into the port from Hong Kong. Their rooms were searched, but nothing suspicious was discovered. The defendants were admitted bail in $5,000 each. The case is to be examined before the U. S. Commissioner.

A Mysterious Crime.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.

Mr. Peel, engineer of the Tombstone Mill and Mining Company was assassinated in his office at Charleston last night. Two masked men entered the office and shot him down and fled. Mr. Austin, Superintendent, who was in the office with Peel was not hit. Motive unknown.

The Karpis Alive Yet.

TUCSON, A. T., March 26.

Conductor Frank Gillette, of the west-bound passenger train arriving here to-night, says the Karp party boarded the east-bound train—Smith, conductor—at one P. M. to-day at Dragon summit and, after passing through the cars, mounted their horses and started in the direction of the mountains.

Another Powder Works Explosion.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.

A Saturday's dispatch from Oakland is to the effect that an explosion occurred at the Berkeley black powder works. The building is burning, and medical assistance is asked for. Several doctors have gone to the scene. About 50 men, mostly white, are employed at the works.

A Good Mine.

SHASTA, Cal., March 27.

Brincard and Lowry, who had been prospecting about seven miles from Shasta, near Centerville, struck a ledge last week and took out $1,500 on Friday and $1,000 Saturday. A few days since a miner near Whiskeytown took out sixteen hard dollars in two pans of dirt.

The explosion of the Vulcan Powder Works this morning killed six white men and six Chinamen.

Personals.

General E. S. Davis returned from San Francisco this morning.

Attorney-General M. A. Murphy, Carson, was in town last night.

Mr. Winslow, of James I. Felter & Co., Sacramento, is in town to-day.

Colonel Jerry Moore, Elko, was a passenger for San Francisco last evening.

Alvaro Evans has gone to his stock range near Iron Point, Humboldt county.

Deputy Warden Garrard of the State Prison was a passenger for Sacramento Saturday night.

Frank Free, Superintendent of the Truckee division C. P. R. R., is sick with congestion of the lungs. He got a bad cold fighting snow.

E. Niles, founder of the Carson Times, and late of the Virginia Chronicle, is visiting friends in Reno. He has shown peculiar fitness for journalistic work. His pen is prolific and his ideas bright. His home will hereafter be in San Francisco.

A Big Minstrel Troupe Coming.

There is nothing more tiresome than a poor minstrel show and nothing more laughable than a good one. The combination known by the ponderous title of Leavitt's Gigantean Minstrels, is one of the latter kind, if the California papers can be believed. The troupe is said to comprise over 40 performers, including the well-known comedians Billy Arlington and Lew Benedict. The Sacramento Bee says: "After such a surfeit of minstrelsy, as this coast has been treated to lately, we were agreeably surprised at the entertaining, crisp, novel and amusing performance given by Leavitt's minstrels. The programme was a most excellent one in all respects, the singing much above the average, the jokes mostly new, the end men full of fun, the first part lively and snappy, the specialties all good and some really wonderful." The troupe will give one performance at the Nevada Theater on Monday evening next, April 3.

Stock in Humboldt County.

The Evans brothers have fed about two hundred tons of hay to the stock running on their Humboldt county range. Alvaro Evans says if they had not taken the precaution to put up plenty of hay their loss would have been very severe. They have fed out all they put up, but he thinks stock will get along well enough from this time until feed starts, as they are in very good condition.

Musical Convention.

Prof. Stinson is in receipt of a letter from General Freight Agent D. A. Bender, in which he says he will give a special rate for all who wish to attend Prof. Perkins' musical convention, which begins here April 3d, and continues four days. The fare from Virginia to Reno and return will be $4—from Carson and return $2.50. From present indications the convention will be a great success.

A Coming Event.

Chris. S. Batterman, son of the late General C. O. Batterman, is to be married on the first of April to Miss Nellie P. Sell, a highly accomplished young lady of Berkeley, California. The young couple will pay a visit to friends in Reno shortly after their marriage.

McGregor.

Alex. McGregor is clearly insane, and, it is feared, a hopeless case. He will be taken to Stockton to-night. The cause of his disorder is thought to be a severe blow on the head which he received several years ago, possibly aggravated by recent religious excitement.

Aged Gratified.

FLINT, Mich., June 23, 1881.
H. H. WARNER & Co.: Sirs—I am 73 years old, and have not been so well in 26 years as I am to-day, thanks to your safe Kidney and Liver Cure, the best remedy in the world.

IRWIN WILDER.

Seamstress for the Asylum.

Miss Katie Bertha, Carson, is strongly recommended by Carson people for the position of seamstress at the Asylum. Dr. Dawson will most likely select some Reno lady for the position.

Oscar's Full Name.

Oscar Wilde's full name is given in the Oxford Calendar as "Oscar Fin-gal O'Hara-Wilde Willis Wilde."

OSCAR WILDE.

The Apostolic Missionary in Reno—His Visit For the Regeneration of the Case.

The Apostle of the Beautiful (with a capital B) arrived on the westward-bound passenger train last Saturday evening and honored the Depot Hotel with his presence during the time necessary to satisfy his material yearnings for the fleshly nutriment which even an aesthete is occasionally forced to absorb. A large crowd was waiting and, as Mr. Wilde stepped from the car, received him with cheers and enthusiastic cat-calls, interspersed with a running fire of such expressions as: "Hooray for Oscar!" "Isn't he a daisy!" "He looks like a cowboy!" "Here he goes!" "There he is!" and similar evidences of soulful joy.

During the progress of his lunch the crowd surged and swayed against the guarded doors of the hotel entrance in a way that plainly showed the deep emotions which filled its constituents. The limpid Oscar was apparently unmoved by the demonstration and calmly ate enough for two hired men in the haying season and then slipped out of a back entrance and so into the car, much to the disappointment of the waiting mob.

A GAZETTE reporter boarded the sleeper and was introduced to the distinguished eulogist of the English renaissance, much to the latter's surprise and ill-concealed gratification. "Are you not pleased by this spontaneous outpouring of the citizens of Washoe, Mr. Wilde?" asked the reporter.

"I'm a little uncertain as yet," was the answer, with an embarrassed smile. "Your people seem rather intense and lacking in reposeful languor. I don't know whether to accept this as an unmixed compliment or not."

"It was intended as a tribute to your talents. The citizens of Reno have followed your career with interest and especially admire your poems recently made accessible to us by being published in a ten-cent edition."

"You like them, then?"

"We do; there is a tropical fervor about them which has done much toward alleviating the recent cold weather."

"Ah, thanks. I have been well pleased with what little I have seen of Nevada, and regret that I cannot see your celebrated Comstock Bonanza Mine. My manager, Mr. Locke, tells me that times are so hard we couldn't draw a $200 house in Virginia City. There is one point I wish you would impress upon your people. The sunflower and the lily are not all of life. My mission is to show the serene pleasures of a life given to the analysis, the study, and the worship of the beautiful; to lift the too, too utterly (if you will allow the expression) minds of the groveling, to the heights where the immortals sit. The Beautiful is the Good, and the Good is the Beautiful. Do you follow me?"

"Partially; proceed," was the assuring reply.

"What are we here for?"

"To pay assessments, and keep up the saloons," murmured the reporter.

"No, my friend, we are here to enjoy existence; to feel the deep, the intense, the unutterably soulful joy of rising above the common-place corned beef and cabbage to the higher plane of pate de fois gras; to soar in the empyrean, and not to crawl in the gutter."

At this moment the whistle sounded and the interview closed.

Mr. Wilde is an immature looking young man, with a smooth, moon-like face, long hair, an equine jaw, and a self-satisfied expression of countenance. The interview convinced the reporter, however, that Oscar is not quite as big a fool as he looks.

Broom-corn.

The cultivation of broom-corn is being tried with great success on many farms in California; the crop being very productive and commanding a high market price. The following facts and figures show. An acre of land will yield one-half ton of corn and a ton of seed. The former commands from forty to one hundred and sixty dollars per ton, and the seeds sell from fifteen to twenty-five dollars per ton. When harvested and ready for market the cost per acre rarely exceeds $25, and never goes above $30. On low lands, near streams, a crop is almost a certainty.

Corn Social at the M. E. Church.

To-morrow evening, the 28th inst., the M. E. Church will give a treat rarely enjoyed—a corn social. Everybody is invited to partake in the festival. Supper will be served from 6 until 9 p. m., with an abundance of delicious corn cakes, corn dodgers, hulled corn, corn griddle cakes, mush and milk, Johnny cakes, and Boston brown bread. Everything is being done to make this the most pleasant and entertaining church social ever had in Reno and it will, no doubt, be well attended.

Fat Cattle.

Last week M. Kochersperger, of Paradise, shipped ten loads of fine beefs from Winnemucca, estimated to average dressed 800 to 900 pounds each, and calculated to bring $60 per head at San Francisco.

The Shell of a Nut.

Last Friday the nine-months' old son of Chris Daugberg, living in Carson valley, was choked to death with the shell of a pine-nut.

The Comley-Barton English Opera Troupe, of 42 persons, passed through on the westward-bound passenger train last Saturday evening. The company begin an engagement to-night at the California Theatre, appearing in "Olivette."

Nick Hammersmith, Jack Frazier and Billy Hamilton put in several days faithful work on the Washoe engine and her house. The walls are hung with handsome bills, the floor is clean and all the machinery thoroughly brightened and oiled. A trial of her strength will be made some day this week.

Dress and address combined will insure success in any branch of life. The first requisite can be had at the White House, where Abrahams Bros. have received by far the finest stock of Spring clothing for men and boys ever displayed by them. Prices lower than ever. Every article guaranteed of best material. Stylish cut and accurate fit.

Two Unfortunate.

George Elrod and Alexander McGregor, now confined in the county jail, are both believed to be suffering from mental disorders and will probably have to be taken to Stockton for treatment. Elrod was arrested on Saturday last for vagrancy. He was taken in on a similar charge some time ago and was sent below by the Commissioners, but failed to remain. He is apparently "off," but not to much extent.

Testimonial.

To all who may be suffering from any incurable disease, attention is called to the wonderful cures performed by Mr. A. Zimmerman, Reno, Nevada. While Mr. Zimmerman does not claim to be a physician, yet, whatever he undertakes to cure is cured in a permanent manner. The worst kind of diseases, such as cancer and scabies in all its worst forms, lung, liver, heart and kidney diseases, scrofula, lumps and tumors weighing from 5 to 30 pounds, scrofulous sore eyes and blindness; bleeding and blind piles in the worst form; chronic and inflammatory rheumatism, erysipelas in all its worst forms, neuralgia in the stomach; elevated sore legs of all kinds; fits or falling sickness; salt rheum in all its worst forms; the seven kinds of dropsy; mill leg and white swelling; gangrenous and painful ulcers and mortification, though proof against the highest skill of renowned physicians and pronounced incurable by them, are like created by him and invariably the patient recovers and enjoys health thereafter free from all previous ailments. The remedies used by Mr. Zimmerman are a simple but efficacious, consisting simply of laying on of hands and the use of a few simple medicines of his own. He does not claim any supernatural powers, yet it must be conceded that the wonders he has performed that some powerful agency is allied with him. Numerous cases can be cited of almost miraculous cures, and any person by calling on or addressing me will receive further information, concerning the subject, and proofs that the above statements are true. M. C. GUERARD, BOCA, CAL., March 2, 1892.

Rescued From Death. William J. Conner, of Stockton, Mass., says: In the fall of 1878 I was taken with BLEEDING OF THE LUNGS followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and was confined to the bed. The doctor said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At any rate, I was in a bad way. I was told that I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALM FOR THE LUNGS. I got a bottle, and when I saw the price, I thought it was too good to be true. I tried it, and in three days I felt better than I had for three years past. I wrote this hoping some one afflicted with this disease might be cured by it. I am now well and can do my usual work. I can positively say it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness.
